

No matter what path you take

Auteurs : Samy Mansour Gaudette et Raphaël Duval

Interprète : Olivier Lanthier

When I realized
I had depression
I noticed it changed
All my perceptions

Then I joined my friends,
Pretending I'm fine
My friends looked at me
As if it was benign

I went to my house,
Heal my obsessions
Listening to music
Is calming preSSION

No matter what path
To get out of dread
To get out of wrath
I must move ahead

No matter what path you take
Get out of the dread
You must stay strong and awake
And keep a cool head
Look all around you and shout
That it's not the end
There will always be a route
There will always be a friend

If I try to like
What I see and feel
Declaring a strike,
Take a pose, and kneel

Maybe I will see
The good side of life
I will learn to heal,
Avoid any strife

No matter what path you take
Get out of the dread
You must stay strong and awake
And keep a cool head
Look all around you and shout
That it's not the end
There will always be a route
There will always be a friend

*Focusing on the good times of my life
It's the only way to fight and succeed
When everything's wrong, anger is a knife
The evil in me makes happiness bleed*

*Then comes sleepless nights, hallucinations
Unfortunately, I feel, I'm falling
But I know, the knight of my perceptions
Will fight back with me, a solution is rising*

No matter what path you take
Get out of the dread
You must stay strong and awake
And keep a cool head
Look all around you and shout
That it's not the end
There will always be a route
There will always be a friend

No matter what path you take
Get out of the dread
You must stay strong and awake
And keep a cool head
Look all around you and shout
That it's not the end
There will always be a route
There will always be a friend